The 2024 Global Religious Recognition Report is a compilation of the most recent available data on recognition and registration impacting conditions of religious freedom throughout the world. Each page of the 259-page report is dedicated to each sovereign state and dependent or disputed territory, including an overview of the constitutional structure, secularism, and recognition and registration policies and practices. Detailed explanations of registration policy have been gathered from the Office of International Religious Freedom's International Religious Freedom Report, in addition to other credible sources. The RORB classification for each country and territory has been updated in accordance with the criteria set out in the Spectrum of Religious Recognition Survey, which was included towards the front of this year's report. This year's report includes an abridged version of Dr. Monica Gymah's article. The full article can be found in the Journal of African Studies, Volume 1, Issue 1, that highlights recognition and registration issues specifically impacting indigenous religious communities.
